MESSAGE FROM THE CEO

FASIL M
CEO

The last couple of years brought a new perspective to all of us as we witnessed humanity's greatest setback of the twenty first century. We panicked, we got raged, but in the end we collectively pulled through as we always did.

In this new age, where we are moving on to a new norm, we are dedicated to face every challenge and hurdles that may come our way with the same focus and conviction like we used to do. Whatever happened in these years will not affect our future as we have a strong base of human resources behind us and the years of experience we have in the industry we work in.

Since the beginning of Revol Oils we have never shied away from widening our horizon and our basic philosophy is to provide our clients with top quality products. To widen our consumer base and to provide them with the best products, we are launching our own Engine Oil brand, Revol Engine Oils. We believe that if we move forward with the same business philosophy as we always did we can write a success story with Revol as well.
